A Selected Bibliography

"Women want Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness. The right to serve our country, to bear arms in our nation's defense. They want respect for the red badge of courage that they too have displayed. And finally, they want recognition for their dedication and sacrifice. In short, they want what men have wanted, been given and received."

Remarks by William S. Cohen, Secretary of Defense, at the dedication of the Women in Military Service for America (WIMSA) Memorial on 18 October 1997

Preface

Women in the Military: A Selected Bibliography was compiled to show the changing roles of women in the military and ongoing concerns relating to their integration in the military. Most of what is included was published after 1996, continuing the selection of materials included in the 1996 Library Notes version of Women in the Military.

All the items are available in the U.S. Army War College Library collection or through the Internet. For the books and documents which are available in our collection, we have added our call numbers at the end of each entry. Please keep in mind that call numbers may vary from library to library. URL addresses which appear in the bibliography were all verified for accuracy, but there is always the possibility that some of them may have changed since the verification took place.

This bibliography is also available on the Internet through our Library's home page (<http://carlisle-www.army.mil/library/>).
